Frequently Asked Questions

Q: I already own copies of your books, but these covers are all different. Are the books any different?

A: The new covers you see are for the latest edition of my novels, now published by Phoenix Rising Press. Heartsong and One ~ Love (formerly The Flip Side of Desire) remain unchanged in terms of the text, but I have added a special additional surprise - a Visual Epilogue - at the end of each of those books. The Price of Fame and The Cost of Commitment have been completely overhauled - re-edited and re-written in places - although I promise you the characters and plot remain unchanged. The Value of Valor remains as is, with the exception of the beautiful new cover.

Q: Are your books available in e-book versions?

A: Yes. All of my books are available in multiple e-book formats, including formats compatible with the Kindle, the Sony reader, the Nook, and the iPad.

Q: Apart from your website, how do I keep up-to-date with news about you?

A: You can click on Contact Ames on the top of my website and join my e-mail update list. You can also friend me on Facebook and follow me on Twitter.
